WORDS TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE

A group of Christian volunteers in Russia is using World Missionary Press Scripture booklets to share the wonderful message of God's love and salvation through Jesus Christ. Every month a team travels to different regions with booklets, such as How to Know God in Russian, that offer God's word with answers to life's questions. At first the people are curious and wonder what they are handing out. When the Christians say "This is a Word that will change your life," the discussion is quickly drawn to a personal level. People gratefully accept the booklet and find the necessary passages from the Bible that reveal the need for salvation and God's plan to receive it. One volunteer said, despite the corona-virus, he was willing to distribute the booklets to every home in his area because they had such useful information.

You can share this life-changing word through a World Missionary Press Scripture booklet. To receive a free booklet call 1-800-422-W.O.R.D. That's 1-800-422-W.O.R.D.

LEARNING THAT GOD LOVES ME!

Russian Christians visited a region in Russia distributing 10,000 Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. They reported that against the background of the pandemic of Covid-19, people are increasingly thinking about God and gratefully accepted the booklets.

In another city they had a wonderful time of evangelism, experiencing the opportunity to lead people in prayer, with some even following up in baptism. When one man heard that God loves him, he was very touched by the words, because he does not have a father and he never heard that God is his father in Heaven and that He loves him.

Some people thanked them, saying they are doing the right thing. These Christians thank World Missionary Press for Scripture booklets that show the role that the Word of God plays in a person's life. They wrote “Thank you for your invaluable contribution into the salvation of Russia.”

FEEDING BODY AND SOUL

Have you ever felt awkward when witnessing for Jesus? There is a free “door-opener” available from World Missionary Press. Pastors and churches in Honduras have found that meeting physical needs with food and including Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press helps open the door to evangelizing. The booklets, full of God’s word, offer the churches a tool to begin a conversation that often leads to salvation.

With the COVID-19 restrictions, people are shut inside their homes with time to read, so they have been more prone to pick up a Scripture booklet and read God’s word. Those in prisons are given food and a scripture booklet, which is often thoroughly read and meditated upon.

Reports from Honduras tell us that more people are coming to Christ in 2020 than ever before and WMP booklets are playing an important role in their evangelism. Even during these times of shut-down, 20 to 50 people weekly make a decisions for Christ.

UNTO THE LEAST OF THESE

For miles and miles around the outskirts of Lima, Peru you can find makeshift houses without doors or windows, running water or electricity. Often built on barren hills, devoid of grass or trees, they supply the most basic shelter. Thousands of families find this the only place they can go. These areas are expanding, as refugees flee the Shining Path terrorists. It is a place of immense physical and spiritual poverty. They need food, but most of all they need to know Jesus.

Pastor Juan recognizes these needs, visiting the poorest areas with food and Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. Friends from the USA help meet the needs by bringing WMP scripture booklets, Bible studies, and New Testaments, to be packaged with food and the love of Jesus.

LITTLE THINGS CAN HAVE BIG EFFECTS

Ken spends time on the streets of his city preaching and offering Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press to those that pass by. He gets very excited when people just walk up and ask for booklets. One day, as someone else was preaching, a crowd gathered, some to listen, and some to jeer. In the midst of all that a man from a country in the Middle East, who could barely speak English, came up to Ken and asked for Scripture booklets in Arabic. He just "happened" to have copies of The Way to God booklet in Arabic with him that day. The man received them thankfully.

It was just a small incident. The booklet is just a small compilation of Scriptures topically laid out to present the gospel, but how God can use those little things to accomplish eternal effects in the heart of a seeking soul.

A DIAMOND IN A WASTE BASKET

A port missionary in Rotterdam left a gospel booklet behind one day as he attempted to share about Jesus with the crewmen of a commercial vessel. Due to Covid restrictions he could not talk with them directly. Sometime later he received an unexpected letter from a Christian seaman from South India. This man had found the booklet in a waste basket that day on the ship and had come to know the Lord as Savior. He was asking for more booklets to help his faith grow.

The seaman wrote, "We at our church are not instructed to read the Bible. Our church is all about rituals. You are important for us because you bring the word of God to us." The missionary was greatly encouraged and mused, "Who can know what will happen to a booklet that we bring aboard?"

FULFILLING A PROMISE

Lynn was able to lead an Armenian friend to salvation through Jesus Christ just two and a half months before he died. Her friend had asked her to share the gospel with his elderly parents and so after his death Lynn looked for a way to fulfill that promise. She requested Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press in Armenian but discovered that her friend's parents could only read Turkish. Because World Missionary Press provides free Scripture booklets in so many languages she was able to obtain the Turkish booklets.

Lynn was so grateful that she could witness to her dear friend's parents even though he was not there to translate and she could not speak to them directly. The Turkish booklets would plant the word of God in their hearts and help fulfill Lynn's promise.
