ENCOUNTER AT A ROAD BLOCK

God's Word can bring light in the darkest of times. Eduardo was driving in Colombia when he encountered a police raid. One of the officers approached him and asked for his documents. Eduardo took the opportunity to give him one of the How to Know God Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. The officer immediately leaned towards him, tears in his eyes, and whispered, "Friend, three weeks ago my home was destroyed when my wife abandoned me. I was about to take my life when someone on the street gave me this same booklet. I read it with faith and asked God to restore my home. My wife came back! Now I value her more than before, and we both go to church."

DRUG DEALER AND THIEF WITNESSING TO OTHERS

God restores broken lives through the power of His Word. Mark never knew his father and lived in fierce poverty during Liberia's civil war. He joined a gang and stole to support his drug addiction. He was arrested and jailed over five times.

Eventually Mark's father found him and solicited him to sell drugs in another county. In God's wisdom, Mark ended up moving to the bush near a ministry compound. There, the ministry leaders reached out to Mark with the gospel, sharing Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. God used the words of scripture to convict Mark's heart, and he gave his life to Christ. Mark then saw his whole life transformed through God's grace. He received discipleship and medical training from the ministry, started a family, and began serving the very gangs he used to work with.

PRISONER FINDS COMFORT

There's nowhere that God can't reach us, even when we're alone. Thomas shares his story from a United States prison. "I found The Amazing Life of Jesus Christ Scripture booklet from World Missionary Press in a gloomy transport cell. That booklet brought badly needed comfort to a very confused and lonely soul. But I lost the booklet in the transport process and thought I'd never see it again. But then recently, I found an old datebook on top of a garbage can. It had an ad for that same wonderful booklet. Whether free or behind bars, God's presence rests with my soul, so even if I can't get access to more Scripture in prison, I am filled with peace and hope. Praise the Lord for shining His light into my cell!

FEARLESS FAITH

Satan has a strong grip in the rural villages of Liberia. Many tribes have never heard the name of Jesus and live in fearful darkness. But Satan's power cannot compare with the life-changing power of God's Word. An evangelistic team traveled to one of these unreached tribes. When they arrived, the village was holding a satanic ritual with young girls, brutally mistreating them and inviting demons to possess them. The tribe ordered the team to leave, but the chief allowed them to stay and teach. One team member shared the gospel, focusing on heaven and hell. The others distributed Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. That day, 9 villagers confessed Christ as their Savior and 4 were baptized. The team returned to this village several times and found the seed of the gospel growing and flourishing.

COFFEE HOUSE EVANGELISM IN SWEDEN

Free coffee is a great way to introduce people to Jesus. In Sweden, one church sets up a coffee stand in their town center each week. With every free drink they hand out, they share a Scripture booklet from World Missionary Press. One of the members says, "It's a blessing to give these booklets to people because they are a good way to start a conversation about what Jesus has done for us. One of my favorites is The Way to God. I always keep the booklets in English, Swedish and Dari on the coffee table so that everyone can read them. Many diverse people stop by, including Dari speaking refugees, who are very open to hearing the gospel in their own language.

THE LUKE COMMISSION SERVES IN ESWATINI

Throughout Jesus' earthly ministry, He served the sick and helpless. In the Kingdom of Eswatini, a medical ministry is following His example. They provide aid to the underserved, isolated people in their country. Meeting physical needs often provides opportunities to address spiritual needs, as well. One team member shares, "World Missionary Press has freely partnered with us to share SiSwati Scripture booklets and Bible study materials. Their generosity has helped us not only treat our patients medically, but also spiritually. We have the privilege of seeing many of our patients come to Christ, some of them moments before they meet Him face to face. Others have come to know Him more deeply through the material. We have been able to share it all over our nation. Only heaven knows how many souls these booklets will reach in Eswatini!"

A LIFE TWICE SAVED

Sometimes God's Word can save someone twice. A woman in Brazil was on her way to buy poison and take her own life. She felt depressed and believed that life wasn't worth living anymore. She passed a house where a family was passing out Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. The woman took one and began reading the precious verses inside. Through them God removed her depression and instead filled her with blessed hope and assurance of eternal salvation in Christ. Later she returned to that home to thank the family who cared so much about the eternal souls of their community. She said, "Through you, God saved my life twice! He saved my physical life and my spiritual life." Her story is a testimony of Psalm 107:20, which says, "He sent His word and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions."
