A Gospel Spark

In Uruguay, God is using new methods to spread His Word. For many years, Christians there didn't have the resources for widespread evangelism. They shared the gospel in hospitals or through personal conversations. Over the last few years, though, many Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press have been sent to Uruguay. And they have lit a spark of enthusiasm in the country. Church groups are meeting up to spread booklets in their neighborhoods. Pastors are taking teams into remote, unreached parts of Uruguay. Even teenagers are getting involved, creating care packages and praying for those who take them. One of our partners there said, "We are witnessing something new happening in Uruguay: a church that moves to evangelize. This is happiness, and we are impacting the country!"

Are you excited to share the gospel but don't know where to start? Order free Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press by calling 1-800-422-WORD. Or order online at myfreeword.org.

Hope through Humiliation

God never leaves His children, even through life's hardest trials. Tamere's life was good. He was a US Navy officer, he was a homeowner, and he was about to get married. However, when a bad decision put him in prison, his life crumbled. He lost everything he cared about in one day. But God hadn't left Tamere, and He was using this trial to grow his faith. Alone and mournful, Tamere reflected on his life. "My house, car, and other earthly possessions were just a facade. I've come to realize the most important things in life are immaterial." Tamere started reading a Bible study from World Missionary Press. It took his mind away from the stress of prison life and taught him empathy. "My studies have eased my journey and allowed me to see my life with clear vision," he said.

Always Ready

Always be ready to share the hope of Christ with someone in need. Pastor Prasad ran a bicycle repair shop, and he always kept World Missionary Press Scripture booklets on hand. One day, a man named Lala stopped by for a repair. He looked exhausted and struggled to even ride his bike. Pastor Prasad asked if he was okay, and Lala explained that he was suffering from tuberculosis. Pastor Prasad invited him inside and was able to share the gospel with him. He then gave him a Scripture booklet to take home and learn more.

A week later, Lala visited Pastor Prasad again with exciting news. He was now a believer, and the Lord had started healing him. Soon, Lala's family and 12 neighbors also put their faith in Christ. Pastor Prasad praised God for using one booklet to bring so many to Him.

Secret Agent for Christ

Listen to the incredible story of a Christian on an undercover operation. We will call him Yapo. He was a military police officer in an Islam dominated area. Yapo was touched by the love of Christ when a team of Christians shared Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press with him. He gave his life to Christ and was passionate about sharing his new faith with his military students. The team spent time discipling Yapo and equipping him with gospel literature. When he was ready, Yapo began witnessing to his students, but he had to do it secretly to avoid harm. His pseudonym became "the Soul Winner," a secret agent for Christ. He has led ten students to the Lord and continues reaching out to others.

Are you ready to take a step of faith like Yapo did? Order free Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press by calling 1-800-422-WORD. Or order online at myfreeword.org.

A Providential Coincidence

Sometimes God works through everyday decisions. Paul and his wife Helen decided to go to Long John Silvers one night. They hardly ever went there, but tonight it sounded great. When they arrived, Helen passed out Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press to the other customers. As the couple finished eating, a man approached them with The Way to God booklet in hand. He explained that he was divorced, and his life was a mess. Friends had tried telling him about God, but he never listened. But tonight when he opened the booklet, he saw an illustration of praying hands that shook him. He had a tattoo with the exact same picture! This wasn't a coincidence, and he wanted to know more. Paul and Helen shared the gospel and prayed with him. Later that night, they thanked God for using their unusual appetite for His glory.

A Providential Coincidence

Sometimes coincidences are actually God's providence. Paul and Helen were handing out World Missionary Press Scripture booklets at a restaurant. One man opened it, and his eyes widened. The page had a drawing of praying hands on it, and he had a tattoo of the exact same picture. Paul used this strange coincidence to share Christ with him.

Touching Memories with Music

Senior living spaces present challenging yet rewarding opportunities for gospel witness. Rick often visits them and plays old classic hymns for the residents. Many of them have dementia, and at first, they just sit quietly, not always registering what is being played. But soon the music touches their memory. Their toes start tapping and they even start singing along. Once he's done playing, Rick gives a short devotional and then hands out Scripture booklets from World Missionary Press. They give the residents a memento to remember his visit by, and a short, organized selection of verses to study later on. Rick is thankful for this gospel literature that can bring God's Word to seniors. "They are reaching people that may never hear the Word again in this life," he says.
