Global Impact: Scripture in Action

“Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.”

—Matthew 28:19

God continues to open doors for His Word to reach people in every corner of the world. Busy fairs and small village gatherings offer a friendly environment where people are open and welcoming, presenting opportunities to share the message of hope and salvation. A simple act of faithfully placing a Scripture booklet in someone’s hands can lead to a deeper spiritual journey, as people take the Word home, read it, and experience their hearts and lives being transformed. Scripture reminds us that “the Word of God is living and powerful” (Hebrews 4:12). The versatility of WMP Scripture booklets makes them effective in any context, meeting people where they are.

In Honduras, booklets are shared and hearts are comforted.

Scripture booklets were included in hygiene kits recently distributed to hundreds of children in Honduras. This met both physical and spiritual needs, allowing families to receive practical help along with the Word of God. Efforts like this broaden ministry opportunities, reflecting the heart of Jesus and reminding us of the importance of reaching young lives. “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God” (Luke 18:16).

In Scandinavia, Christian and secular events serve as key points of distribution. Christian events facilitate the distribution of Scripture booklets and Bible study resources to multiple congregations, equipping distributors to evangelize on a large scale. Summer festivals open doors for outreach, where simple conversation and a literature table with food and music create opportunities to share the Word of God. Across the Nordic region, 348 ministry partners were introduced to WMP booklets in 2025. We praise God that extended reach is leading to WMP booklets being translated into new regional languages, such as Northern Sámi.

In Colombia, a recent outdoor community movie night provided an opportunity for outreach. Booklets were distributed as families watched the Christian movies, underscoring the message they had just seen and heard. The booklets can be taken home and the truth of God’s Word can be read repeatedly, taking root in hungry hearts, knowing that “faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God” (Romans 10:17).

In the United States, outreach continues through Vacation Bible Schools, parades, fairs and neighborhood gatherings. Many churches provide God Loves You!

coloring books to children at VBS, ensuring each child leaves with pages to color and Scriptures to read. Believers connect with their communities at fairs and events, while backyard

Bible clubs create personal settings where young people can study the Word together.

As a distributor was handing out literature at a New York City subway station, a woman took several Scripture booklets in English and Spanish to share at the hospital where she works, illustrating the call to “be ready in season and out of season” (2 Timothy 4:2).

God’s Word is not limited by place or circumstance.

“Be ready in season and out of season.”

Growing demand for God’s Word in Tanzania has opened doors for distribution in new areas and has increased the number of WMP partners. Churches support the work by providing premises, meals, storage, and transportation. Through the outreach, many come to faith in Christ and testify to transformed lives. Training programs for new distributors help equip them for effective ministry, fulfilling Romans 10:15, which says, “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace, who bring glad tidings of good things!”

There is no single approach to evangelism and discipleship. Believers use opportunities before them, becoming “...all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.” (1 Corinthians 9:22b). God’s Word is not limited by place or circumstance. It continues to move—reaching hearts and changing lives wherever it is shared. 🌐

My Weakness for His Glory

“In one year I have already passed out 4,000 [booklets] to teens and children at YMCA. Families are using [them] as family worship at bedtime and teens are memorizing the verses. I call these treats and teens are excited to get these booklets and ask for more for their friends. Teens tell me that this puts the Bible in a nutshell, so now they know the purpose of the Bible and Jesus is changing all these lives and families. Jesus puts new people in my path every day so I can share the gospel.

My walker is full of [a] variety of Scriptural treats every day. I am 75 years old, but Jesus uses my weakness for His glory. My prayer calendar on my kitchen table is where I record names of teens that ask for prayer and details how to pray for them. I see Jesus answer prayer every day! I have to swim 8 hours a week to be able to walk a little and quote Bible chapters in the pool and pray with people in the pool. It is my mission field. Jesus gives me breath and strength and overflowing JOY!” —Dawn, Ohio

Ready to Share God's Word?

This summer, take a moment to look around your community. How many events, large or small, are happening near you? How many different languages are spoken in your area? Each one represents an opportunity.

Are you willing and ready to share WMP Scripture booklets with people from different cultural backgrounds? Ask the Lord to open your eyes to these moments and step forward in faith to place His Word into waiting hands.

As we continue sharing the message of hope, we are seeking a gently used 7-passenger van to help us connect with local churches and ministry partners. If the Lord may be leading you—or someone you know—to help meet this need, we would be grateful to connect!
