

A young boy with light brown hair is smiling broadly, holding a small book titled "God Loves You!" in his right hand. The book has a colorful illustration of a group of people. The background is a blurred outdoor setting with a chain-link fence.

Prayer & Praise

Greetings to all my Friends,

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ” is a phrase that appears only three times in Scripture (Please read Ephesians 1:3; 1 Peter 1:3; 2 Corinthians 1:3 and following). Each time, it introduces the overflowing goodness of Jesus’s Father. Through Him, we are given gifts beyond measure: every spiritual blessing found in heaven, a living hope that transcends life, and a sustaining comfort that meets us in both quiet burden and overwhelming sorrow.

The phrase introduces encouraging truths to Christians in hard circumstances. At times, our outward faith can become a façade, hiding wounded hearts, strained relationships, or lingering doubts. Suffering often clouds our ability to believe what God has promised. In those low places, we want to believe but often don’t.

But God’s Word remains steady, even when our hearts are not. These promises are not reserved for the strong, the confident, or the spiritually unshaken—they are for us. The God who blesses is the God who stays. In every moment, He is near, comforting and strengthening us. The Father has set His love upon us. He has chosen us, calling us to be holy and blameless, adopting us as His own children. His faithful hand keeps us secure, guarding our inheritance. The Father’s love for us in Christ is reality, not our circumstances.
